foreword

We have tried to combine the art work, the copy, and the modern styling of this year's RED AND GREEN to depict our school as it really is —not merely an institution of learning, as important as that is—but the very center of our teenage lives.

The primary function of our school is to prepare us for an occupation or for further schooling, but, in addition, it offers us friendship, health, and a chance to express ourselves. Our school is the meeting place of all youth. Here we make acquaintances and friendships that not only help us through our daily tasks, but will, in later years, provide rich stores of reminiscences.

Besides developing character, personality, and inherent ability, our clubs and activities teach practicalities and provide recreation. The building of our bodies and the maintenance of good health are encouraged by the physical education program, as our minds are kept alert by work in the classroom.

This year we have used to advantage all the offered opportunities. We have increased our knowledge and further developed our moral being. All in all, it has been a good year, one that will serve as a milestone in our lives.

dedication

The class of 1955 is proud to dedicate its yearbook to Mr. Richard H. Ramsauer. His enthusiastic attitude, inspirational ideas, exceptional talents, and devoted assistance have done much to make our high school years happy and profitable. We can never fully express our appreciation, but we hope that this book will serve as a reminder that we are deeply grateful.

CLASS SONG

Dear Jamestown High we're leaving,
Through halls of learning pass,
With red and white our colors
Fifty-five is our class.
Step by step we'll go much farther;
Our hearts are filled with pride;
We've tried to serve thee humbly
Through the years gone by.

—Alice Gustavson

PEP SONG

Now here's to the class of '55!
We're the class that is alive.
And onward goes our fame;
Our motto is our aim.
Now step by step one goes much farther,
Always upholding our name.
Loyal students we will be
And always honor thee.
Oh, '55, here we are together,
The red and white forever.
We'll always stick together
The great class of '55.

—Barbara Fletcher and song committee

SENIOR CABINET

senior class history

When the class of '55 entered J.H.S. in the fall of 1952, little did they realize what new and wonderful things high school would bring to them.

With high hopes and big dreams, they chose, to lead the opening year, the following students:

President ..... James Hagberg
Vice-president ..... Jane Mohr
Secretary ..... Edward Steele
Treasurer ..... Barbara Lundgren
Historian ..... Karen Thayer
Keeper of Properties....Karen Thayer

Next the class decided on the American Beauty rose as their flower, red and white the colors, and "Step by step one goes far" the motto.

The first event held as a class was the Sopho more Reception where students, teachers, and parents became better acquainted.

The first dramatic offering from the class was their play "The Tower Room Mystery" which climaxed the first year at J.H.S. for the Class of 1955.

The next fall as Juniors and with the growing self-confidence that marks a successful year past, the class started with their best foot forward and elected these officers:

President ..... Daniel Johnson
Vice-president ..... Robert Ecklund
Secretary ..... Cynthia Gilbert
Treasurer ..... Rosanne Sinatra
Historian ..... Karen Thayer
Keeper of Properties....Richard Seely

First Row: A. Gustavson, R. Sinatra, D. Hanson, K. Thayer, F. Olson. Second Row: D. Johnson, B. Dobmeier, R. Ecklund, S. Peterson, J. Irby.

Another fine play, "Belles On Their Toes" appeared and one by one, as the year moved on, the class participated in the traditional events. The Charles E. Hall Debate, the measurement for class rings, Moving-Up Day, and the Junior-Senior Reception were all a part of the second big year.

Finally, the year the class had been waiting for, the never-to-be-forgotten senior year arrived. Everything the '55-ers did was for "the last time."

The offices who were chosen at the beginning of the year and who led them so well were these:

President . . . . . Sebastian Ciancio
Vice-president . . . . . David Hanson
Secretary . . . . . Cynthia Gilbert
Treasurer . . . . . Rosanne Sinatra
Historian . . . . . Karen Thayer
Keeper of Properties . . Marcia Elmeer

From the successful presentation of the class play, "Out of This World" to an impressive part in the traditional Charles E. Hall debate, the seniors have had a busy year.

As spring came, the class found graduation preparations more and more a part of their life at J.H.S. They were measured for caps and gowns, and committees began to function for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. The Senior Prom promised to be the social highlight of the year with everyone excited over the events ahead.

Throughout these active and happy years in J.H.S., Mr. Richard H. Ramsauer, the class advisor, has been a constant source of help and inspiration. His genial nature and enthusiasm have helped solve many class problems.

On June 28 the class will assemble for the last time and enter the auditorium for their commencement, emerging graduates of J.H.S. with the great Class of 1955.

Karen Thayer, Historian.

THE J.H.S. ALMA MATER

The late Milton J. Fletcher, Superintendent Emeritus

(Tune: Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms)

Alma Mater, thy name in honor we hold,
J.H.S., thou art dear to us all;
Swell the chorus of song, let thy praises be told
While together school days we recall.
The old study hall shrines, the joys of our youth,
'Tis the place where the "school spirit" bides—
The sprite that wrings jest from the gravest of truth,
And cheers us whatever betides.

And still, J.H.S., in the years that shall be,
Thy scenes will crowd memory's hour,
The class room, the "Gym", the old willow tree,
E'en the clock that keeps watch in the tower.
Thy boys and thy girls, thine today and for aye—
Spite of changes old time shall have seen—
We'll stand for the right, for the honor we'll try
Of our colors, the Red and the Green.

You are gone, dear old school, yet there stands in your place
One that makes our hearts quicken with pride
But you've left inspiration time ne'er can efface,
And with us you will always abide.
For your spirit lives on, the old school in the new,
As a seed lives again in its flower—
The old willow still whispers to us to be true
And the clock watches us from the tower.

junior class history

Once again the Juniors made out their schedules in September to begin their second year at J.H.S. With one year's experience behind them, they felt confident of another year.

The following officers were chosen to lead them in the new year:

President ..... Alaric Bailey
Vice-president ..... Mary Pitts
Secretary ..... Sandra Swanson
Treasurer ..... Roger Jackson
Keeper of Properties. . Robert Lindgren
Historian ..... Marshall Arisman

The first event of the new year was the collection of class dues. Full cooperation was recorded with everyone contributing.

The Junior Class play, "The Curious Savage", was one of the highlights of the year. Under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, the play proved to be a rousing success.

On February 22, the "Save the Children" Federation clothing drive started. The Junior Class challenged the Sophomores and Seniors to a contest to see which class could bring the most clothing. The Junior Class was awarded a certificate for bringing the most clothing.

The selection of and measurement for class rings were exciting events. This meant that the Juniors were nearing their long-awaited senior year at J.H.S.

Jerome Lindholm and Sandra Swanson brought fame to the class of '56 when they were crowned king and queen of the J-Quill dance. Every year twelve students, of all classes, are chosen to participate in the contest.

Other outstanding events which the Juniors will direct include the reception for the Seniors in June and the Moving-up Day assembly.

When Timothy Ahlstrom, Russell Batt and William Bigelow were chosen for the Charles E. Hall Debate, the Juniors felt confident they had a winning team.

The class of '56 wants to express its deepest appreciation to Miss Mary Strand, class advisor, who helped make this year a great one.

sophomore class history

September 7, 1954, will always be a memorable day in the history of the class of 1957, for it was on this day that the new sophomore class wandered through the unfamiliar halls of J.H.S., and the faculty had their first glimpse of a class which was destined to high school success. It was also on this day that the class of '57, under the capable leadership of Mr. Floyd M. Miller, began its endeavor to bring honor and glory to Jamestown High School.

Soon after the students became acquainted with their teachers and classmates, they were asked to select their fellow students who they thought were best fitted to lead them throughout the year 1954-55. They selected the following as officers:

President . . . . . Frank Hammerstrom
Vice President . . . . . Richard Day
Secretary . . . . . Patricia Venman
Treasurer . . . . . Patsy Smeragliuolo
Historian . . . . . Richard Heitzenrater
Keeper of Properties . . . . Thomas Sharp

The first undertaking of the sophomore class was the Sophomore Reception in November. The purpose of the reception was to get the parents of the sophomores acquainted with the teachers, with whom so much of the student's time is spent. This started the sophomores on their way to an eventful three years in J.H.S.

March 12, 1955, was a big night for Playhouse, the sophomore dramatic organization. "Broadway on Second Street" was presented, with each class producing a one-act play on a competitive basis. It was a rousing success for Playhouse and an enjoyable evening for the audience. In addition, the offering of the sophomore class, "Two Crooks and a Lady," was judged the winner.

The big event of the spring was the Sophomore Party, managed entirely by students. It turned out to be another huge success for the class of '57.

Under the banner of blue and white, with the narcissus as the class flower, and the motto, "Deeds, not Words," the class of 1957 is looking forward to the next two years, hoping that they will be as successful as the memorable sophomore year.

RED and GREEN STAFFS WORK HARD to PRODUCE "55" YEARBOOK

October brought with it the necessity of planning the 1955 Red and Green yearbook. Both the business staff, under the supervision of Miss Rosella Agostine and the editorial staff, supervised by Mrs. Florence Zanghi, were chosen and work was promptly begun.

Under the leadership of Joseph Jeziorski, editor; Jane Mohr, associate editor and Sebastian Ciancio, business manager, the staffs have had their noses to the grindstone making this year's Red and Green the best. The talents of Phyllis Scarry and her art staff have been devoted to making the book attractive.

Writing assignments were given, captions begun, senior superlatives chosen and typists assigned their jobs. Piece by piece material was handed in and checked. After months of concentrated effort, the whole preliminary business, pictures, art work, and copy, were sent to the engraver and printer.

Using the theme "Say It With Music", the drive for sales was very successful. Over 1,000 copies were sold this year. The campaign started February 11th and ended March 2nd. Because of demand, sales were held over one more day beyond the original deadline.

Appreciation is due to Mrs. Eleanor Himes and Mr. Richard Ramsauer, heads of the Art Department, Mrs. Zanghi, and Miss Agostine. We should like to thank also Mr. George Keeler, who supervised the individual senior pictures and Robert A. Wilson and William LaDuke, who put in hours to take the pictures that play such an important part in the publication of this year's Red and Green.

In addition, the editorial staff of the yearbook wishes to acknowledge the contribution of the following: Phyllis Scarry for the cover design and art direction; Carl Johnson for the lettering throughout the book; Mr. Leo Whitney, chief engineer at J.H.S. for the frontispiece picture; the Jamestown Post-Journal and the Jamestown Sun for the use of sports' pictures.

It is the sincere hope that both teachers and students will find the 1955 yearbook a record of activities and a memory book in later years.

J-QUILL "SINGS OUT" WITH THE NEWS

"Where are those cubs? Is your story written yet? Hurry up, the deadline is only an hour away! May I use the typewriter next?" People rush in and out the door, go to appointments, make phone calls to the printer and gather last minute news. These are the sights and sounds which are heard in Room 211 every time the J-Quill goes to press. To the outsider looking in, everything seems to be in a complete turmoil. Once inside, however, he sees that there are organization, plan and direction involved. All issues are planned with Marcia Elmeer as editor-in-chief. Whenever any guidance is needed, all turn to Mrs. Mary T. Walsh, sponsor of J-Quill. In addition to supervising the publication of the J-Quill, Mrs. Walsh also teaches a beginning class in journalism every Thursday during the seventh period.

Besides publishing five issues, the J-Quill found it necessary to earn money through various means to meet the rising cost of printing. At the beginning of the new term, J-Quill published school calendars. They were printed in the school colors, red and green, with the Junior and Senior Class songs on one side and the calendar on the other. This project was in charge of Jack Ericson, a sophomore.

In February, J-Quill sponsored a dance after the Jamestown-Southwestern game. The special feature of the dance was the coronation of Sandra Swanson and Jerome Lindholm as the J.H.S. Valentine King and Queen. In March, a nickel supper was served with food donated by members of the staff.

J-Quill also found time for a tureen supper in the teachers' cafeteria in December. Miss Patricia Appleyard of the Jamestown Post-Journal spoke about her experiences in journalism.

The final event of the year for J-Quill was the joint induction ceremony with the Red and Green business and editorial staffs. At this ceremony new members of the publications staffs were inducted into Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society for high school journalists.

For the first time J-Quill entered national competition this year. The school paper was sent to Columbia University where it was judged on a national basis. It took third place at the Columbia University National Press Conference held March 10-12 in New York City.

QUILL AND SCROLL ORGANIZES AT J. H. S.

Quill and Scroll, a national honor society for journalists, has taken its place among the organizations at J.H.S.

In June of 1954, for the first time in the history of our school, Quill and Scroll was initiated with the following members of J-Quill: Pauline Carlson, Marcia Elmeer, Patricia Hanson, Earl Johnson, James Roman, and Irene Telly. From the Red and Green came these charter members: George Ciancio, James Dandelski, and Catharine Johnston.

Qualifications for membership in this organization are as follows: (1) The candidate must be of at least junior standing. (2) The candidate must be in the upper third of his class at the time of his election. (3) The candidate must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor. (4) The candidate must be recommended by the advisor or by the committee governing publications. (5) The candidate must be approved by the executive secretary. In addition to the above qualifications, J-Quill also requires a candidate to have a minimum of seventy-five inches of published material.

Induction ceremony was held in the spring of 1955. Members of J-Quill who were inducted include Lois Anderson, Cynthia Chiappetta, Ann Hedberg, William LaDuke, Eleanor Phillips, Stacy Rowley, and Mary Ann Tilaro.

Also inducted were these members of the Red and Green: Jane Mohr, Joseph Jeziorski, Harold Lindquist, Sebastian Ciancio, Donald Arnone, Phyllis Scarry, and Robert A. Wilson.

Advisors are the three publications advisors: Mrs. Mary T. Walsh, J-Quill sponsor; Mrs. Florence O. Zanghi, editorial advisor of the Red and Green; and Miss Rosella M. Agostine, business advisor of the Red and Green.

HONOR SOCIETY CONTINUES SCHOOL SERVICE

To be chosen by the faculty to membership in the Kappa Alpha Tau chapter of the National Honor Society is an honor to any student. Members are chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Induction ceremonies took place in November and again in March under the supervision of Miss Hattie Boak, faculty advisor.

This year Honor Society was called upon to induct the first member into the newly formed chapter in Frewsburg.

Members are always on the scene at home basketball games, selling at the concession stand. Money raised here is used for the scholarship fund and also for junior high awards. To increase the treasury, J.H.S. bookcovers were also sold.

The members of Kappa Alpha Tau Chapter nominated Luther Burbank for the Hall of Fame at New York University. This is usually done every five years.

Two books were put in the library by the Honor Society in memory of Ray Bartoldson who was a member of Honor Society and was gradated with the class of 1950. He passed away in 1954.

The square dance, "The Hayseed Hop," which is held annually by the Honor Society, was in February.

MI-Y AIMS AT BUILDING FELLOWSHIP

One of the stated purposes of membership in Mi-Y is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians".

The activities of Mi-Y during the school year of 1954-55 have done much to carry out this objective of the Y.

This year we were privileged to have as our advisor, Miss Won-Wah Lee, exchange Y-Teen director from Korea. Working with our Y-Teen director, Marilyn Snyder, Miss Lee has done a great deal to promote our club activities.

Our first service project for the year was a Halloween Party for the benefit of the younger members of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. Mi-Y in charge of the refreshments, also worked with Hi-Y in chaperoning the young people. At Christmas time the group gave a party for some of the underprivileged children of our community. Mi-Y enjoyed themselves as much as the youngsters did during the period of games, refreshments and the passing out of gifts.

In February a Booth Carnival was held to raise money for the Y.W.C.A. Centennial Fund. This fund goes toward the furthering of the efforts of teaching and expanding the benefits of Christian education throughout the world. A "scavenger hunt" was held in April to provide needed gifts for the veterans in Batavia as well as to provide entertainment for our own club. These articles helped in making the veterans' Easter a little more cheerful.

Accompanying our many service projects were a number of social events. Our "Recognition Service" was our first never-to-be-forgotten ceremony. Besides providing entertainment for the members, our programs taught us a great deal. A hair stylist, a panel discussion with Hi-Y, a new constitution and modern dancing lessons are proof of this. A Palm Sunday service was held in the First Methodist Church with Hi-Y and the parents. Breakfast was served following the service in the Y.W.C.A.

To end the year, a weekend was spent at the Y.W.C.A. camp on Lake Chautauqua. The year ended nostalgically with a party for the seniors, which was given by the sophomores and juniors of the club.

Through the year, Mi-Y has done much to add to their memories and enjoyment of their high school days.

Mi-Y officers this past year were as follows:

First Term		Second Term
Nancy Poore	President	Carolyn Kelley
Janice Dilts	Vice-president	Mary Valone
Barbara Lee	Secretary	Barbara Lee
Janet Christianson	Treasurer	Janet Christianson

HI-Y HAS ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

During the 1954-1955 school year, Hi-Y has presented a program to provide wholesome recreation, an opportunity to serve, and principles of Christian living. The aims of the organization were put into practical living.

In order to raise money for its service projects, the group gave dances after the home football games. Besides the increase in the treasury, there was the satisfaction of providing wholesome entertainment for the high school crowd.

One of the service projects was the giving of food baskets to needy families at Thanksgiving time. Another was the presentation of a Reader's Digest in Braille, to a blind person.

The Club also participated in the activities of the "Y" itself. Several members attended the Fredonia Area Legislature and the Western New York Youth Conference at Buffalo.

For a month, various religions were studied; local pastors assisted in the program. In an Easter assembly program, the Hi-Y presented the Reverend Charles H. Hagadorn of Chautauqua. This year, for the third time, the club presented the Norman Nelson award to a high school student. This is a tribute to a former Hi-Y advisor who passed away three years ago.

The members had many good times together, too. There was a memorable basketball game with Lyceum and parties with Mi-Y. With past members as guests, the group held a hayride followed by "eats" at the "Y".

During the year, Paul Kelley, a member of the local Hi-Y, held the office of vice-president of the Chautauqua-Cattaraugus groups.

The fellows in the club wish to thank their advisors, "Uncle Art" Stearns and Mr. "Herb" Carlson for their devoted work in behalf of the group. Hi-Y regrets the loss of "Uncle Art" Stearns, but every member wishes him success in his new position in Buffalo.

"LE CERCLE FRANCAIS" HAS REWARDING YEAR

One of the main aims of "Le Cercle Francais" is to broaden the vocabulary of the members and that's exactly what it did this past year. Because of the varied programs at the meetings held the seventh period every Tuesday in room 309, the members widened their knowledge of the French language "beaucoup."

The biggest undertaking and the one that Le Cercle Francais enjoyed doing the most was sending a gift package to an orphanage in France. Full of the Christmas spirit, the French students packed practical gifts and also goodies and sent them overseas with their best wishes. Next on the French Club calendar was a bake sale held in January. March 31 was the date of the International Theater Month program, sponsored by the Pretenders, dramatic organization. The French students performed a musical skit and again showed themselves to be full of ambition and ready to help.

As the year progressed, new games and songs were introduced at the meetings of Le Cercle Francais and the members learned new words with the hope that one day they might speak French with ease. The last meeting before Christmas served as a party and gifts were exchanged among the members. Upon passing room 309, you could hear the strains of French Christmas carols. In May the annual banquet was held as the fitting conclusion of an active year.

Thanks to Miss Emma Barber, faculty advisor, and to the officers, Le Cercle Francais witnessed a very successful year. This year's able officers were the following:

President ..... Sonja Carlson
Vice-president ..... Geraldine Adams
Secretary ..... Ethna Sulmonetti
Treasurer ..... Nancy Reynolds

SPANISH CLUB EXTENDS "SOUTH OF THE BORDER"

"Good things come in small packages" could very well be the theme of Los Amigos de Espanol, the Spanish Club at J.H.S. Although very "reducido" this year, the club has been active in promoting interest in Latin America and Spain.

At a lovely party held in November, the club honored Miss Marta Valdes, a teen-aged guest from Mexico City who was in this country visiting Miss Beatrice Eckberg and other friends. The members showed her how the United States celebrates Halloween, since that holiday is not held in Mexico. Everyone was in costume and many typical American games were played. Since Marta has returned to her home in Mexico, the club has been corresponding with her.

Another highlight of the year was the annual Christmas Fiesta, held this year at the home of the sponsor, Miss Ethel M. Swanson. Mexican food, such as tortillas, arrozcon pollo and pan was enjoyed. Each member, blindfolded, tried to break a colorful "pinata" overflowing with gifts and Mexican candy. Mrs. D. Neil Fleek showed beautiful slides of Spain. Credit is due to Miss Swanson and Barbara Squinn, who prepared all the food and planned the affair.

All members of Spanish Club take or have taken Spanish. The club activities help them to further their knowledge of the Spanish language and customs. At one meeting "Scrabble" was played in Spanish! Another project was the study of Spanish artists and their works. All students taking Spanish were invited when Miss Mary Tarbox presented interesting slides of Mexico.

During the last weeks of March, the strains of "Las Mananitas", a Latin-American song, could be heard as the Spanish Club members diligently practiced for their part in the International Theater Month program on March 31.

A tea given for French Club in late spring rounded out the year's activities.

Officers of Spanish Club this year were the following:

President ..... Rodney Anderson
Vice-president ..... Suzon Forscey
Secretary ..... Barbara Squinn
Treasurer ..... James Muir

KEY CLUB RISES AND SHINES ALL YEAR

Up in the morning and out on the job—that's Key Club. Members meet at 7:55 A.M. on Thursdays in their third floor club room. The purposes of Key Club are many: to develop initiative and leadership, to provide experience in living and working together, to serve the school and community and to prepare for useful citizenship. Under the guidance of Mr. George Keeler, faculty advisor, this year's group fulfilled its many aims.

Key Clubbers proved their initiative and leadership by conducting a meeting of the local Kiwanis Club. Daniel Johnson, the organization's prexy, presided at the meeting. The club presented a debate following the business session at Kiwanis on the subject: "Resolved: that the federal government should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States."

This year Key Club emphasized school service. On November 19 representatives of over twenty colleges visited the high school. Members served as guides and hosts to the representatives of various colleges. During February the club promoted a clothing drive for needy children throughout the world. As a result, student clothing contributions tripled last year's total.

Key Club activities were highlighted by a state convention at Monticello, New York on April 30-May 1. A group from Jamestown attended the convention and was accompanied by members of the local Kiwanis Club.

On the financial side, Key Club enjoyed a prosperous year. The organization joined with J-Club to sponsor the annual Student-Faculty basketball game on March 18. A capacity crowd insured the group of a successful 1955.

The local chapter is a member of Key Club International and is affiliated with the Jamestown Kiwanis Club.

The officers of the past year were as follows:

President ..... Daniel Johnson
Vice-president .... C. Robert Ecklund
Secretary ..... Brian Weinstein
Treasurer ..... Robert A. Wilson

YORKERS COMPLETE THIRD YEAR AT J. H. S.

In May of 1952, Sebastian Ciancio, then a ninth grader at Jefferson, was elected state president of the Yorker Club. Many members of the class of 1955 were Yorker members in junior high school, and when they found out that no such group existed in J.H.S., they began to work for one. With Sebastian Ciancio as president, and Miss Helen G. McMahon as advisor, the club was formed. Yorker, which is an abbreviation of The New York State Junior Historical Society, has grown steadily in membership.

This year, as in the two previous years of existence, the organization has contributed many worthwhile community projects. One of these is the giving of food baskets and gifts to needy families at Christmas.

Ever since the club was formed here, there has been an effort to stimulate interest in a museum for the Jamestown area. Many items of historical significance have been collected, including farm implements, household articles, pictures, and paintings of the 1800's. The articles are on display on the second floor of the high school, and will be exhibited there until a suitable home is found for them.

As a long range project, the members plan to raise funds to purchase a portrait of the late Justice Robert H. Jackson. The portrait will be presented to the school.

The meetings this year have been varied and interesting. Movies have been shown, and guest speakers have been invited, including Mr. David Berg, Miss Helena Stonehouse, and Mr. Albert Price.

East Aurora was the host city for the Western New York Jamboree on April 23. These Jamborees are held each year in a different city to enable the clubs to talk over local problems, projects, and devices; and to nominate members to run for state offices.

The club completed its year's activity at a convention held in Syracuse May 13 and 14.

The officers this year were as follows:

F. T. A. PREPARE FOR FUTURE CAREER

The main aim of the Merton P. Corwin Future Teachers of America Club is to acquaint interested students with the opportunities and responsibilities of the teaching profession and to cultivate in them the essential qualities of a good teacher.

F.T.A. offered many helpful and differentiated activities throughout the year. These projects were planned at the meetings held in the form of tureen suppers in the cafeteria here at school. Trips were made to the various teachers' colleges. Training sessions in the operation of audio-visual equipment were held.

Perhaps the most important of all was the teacherette program which provided students with opportunity to observe and assist in an elementary or a junior high school class one afternoon a week. A program to help Korean children was put in effect.

Many service projects which helped the school and the community also headlined F.T.A. activities. Members acted as guides and served in the cafeteria for the Chautauqua County Teachers' Conference. In order to observe American Education Week, a panel discussion, "Future Teachers on the Air," was presented over radio station WJOC and a very attractive window display was set up in Nelson's Department Store.

F.T.A. is affiliated with the National Education Association and is sponsored by the Jamestown Teachers' Association. Miss Helen Overs is the faculty sponsor and Miss Florence McGuirl is the co-sponsor. Officers for this year have been as follows:

President ..... Ralph Farrar
Vice-president ..... Patricia Pearson
Secretary ..... Joyce Manno

"SALS" HELP TO MAKE FRIENDS ABROAD

"SALS" is an organization of girls working in the library for the purpose of assisting the librarians and getting themselves and other Jamestown High School students acquainted with books.

The girls have helped the librarians in many different ways this year. They have helped to process new books, put plastic covers on books, type cards and pockets, paste pockets in the books, refile magazines used during the day, and arrange the occupational file. During Christmas vacation the girls helped to take inventory of the books.

The girls helped greatly in the promotion of reading this year in Jamestown High School by each one designing a bulletin board. These bulletin boards that the girls designed were distributed among the homerooms for one-week periods. The bulletin boards were used to introduce different books and various subjects.

The "SALS" were quite active all year. During the first part of the year they held a rummage sale to raise money for CARE book packages to be sent to needy schools. This year the girls chose Western Germany as the country to which they directed CARE organization to send their gift. These CARE book packages help the promotion of better friendship between our countries.

The "SALS" had a Christmas party this year which was not only a social event for the girls but a charitable one, too. The girls made clothespin dolls which they gave to children in the children's ward at the W.C.A. Hospital.

The "SALS" held their meetings every third Tuesday in one of the reading rooms of the library. The girls gave up some of their study hall periods and some of their seventh periods for the express purpose of assisting in the library.

Officers for the year were as follows:

President ..... Patricia Dombrowski
Secretary ..... Elizabeth Bates
Treasurer ..... Virginia Sieta
Advisor ..... Miss Jewell Brown

"REC" RESUMES ACTIVE ROLE IN J. H. S

After a year's absence, the "REC" has reappeared on the busy J.H.S. activity calendar. A group of seniors and juniors, under the direction of Mr. Allan W. Babcock, has guided the program this year.

The idea of reviving the "REC" originated among several members of the committee in the spring of 1954, but action was postponed until school began last fall.

It has been the purpose of the "REC" committee to provide entertainment on nights, particularly Fridays, when no other school activities are scheduled. The price of admission has been kept at a minimum. Proceeds from the refreshment stand and admissions have been used to purchase sheet music and other band supplies.

The infrequent appearance of the "REC" during the fall and winter months has been due to the crowded school calendar and the time required for developing a proficient dance band.

The experience gained by the members of the committee and the band will be an important asset to next year's "REC".

The following are the members of the committee and their duties. There are, however, other J.H.S. students who have contributed to the success of the "REC" and the assemblies in which the band has performed.

Chairman ..... Timothy Ahlstrom
Band ..... Rodney Anderson
Publicity ..... Joseph Anzalone

DANCE BAND ENLIVENS J. H. S. "REC"

One of the reasons for the lack of interest in former "REC" was the use of records for dancing. The "REC" committee felt that a dance band, especially one made up of J.H.S. students, would create more interest and bring more students to the dances.

The personnel of the band changed considerably during the first rehearsals last fall. During one of the "RECS" in January, two bands, one made up entirely of sophomores, performed during the evening. Later to create a deeper sound, the two bands were combined to form a single unit of twelve instruments. The success of these groups is the result of their own musical knowledge, individual practice, and group rehearsals. They have provided their own leadership.

Part of the band equipment, namely the stands and the public address system, are from the former "REC". These have been supplemented by new sheet music, folders, lights and microphone heads.

Participation in a band of this sort has brought varied and valuable experience to its members It is helpful to those looking ahead to a musical future and also is a means by which students of similar interests get together and appreciate their own and fellow musicians' talents. Working together in such an organization gives a sense of teamwork and satisfaction for a job well done.

DRAMATISTS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCES

Along with the numerous other activities at Jamestown High, dramatics played a big part in the lives of many "teen-agers". This year a great deal of fine dramatic work was done under the direction of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, faculty advisor. The three "plays of the year" played to large, enthusiastic audiences.

On November 20, the Seniors transformed the J.H.S. stage into the campus of Parkhurst College for Women, for their play "Out of This World". When Linda Russell, played by Shirley Peterson, turned her uncle's house into a boys' dorm for the weekend, crochety Otis, portrayed by Joseph Welch, locked himself—along with the young men's clothes—in the attic. When he imagined himself departed from this world, Uncle Otis relented, deciding youth isn't so bad after all. He then sold his property to the college, providing a happy ending for this rollicking comedy.

The Junior Class presented "The Curious Savage" on February 5, when our stage became "The Cloisters Rest Home". The rich Mrs. Savage, Mary Pitts, was committed by her money-conscious stepchildren. Many laughs were provided by some of the inmates, played by Dorothy Peterson, Lillian Vitanza, and Michael Clawson. After her sanity had been determined, however, Mrs. Savage almost decided that she preferred the company of the gentle eccentrics to the mad world, but she left the home in order to use her fortune making other people happy.

Finally, the dramatists turned to the field of children's theater for the production of "Greensleeves' Magic." The enthusiastic young audience was delighted at the antics of Greensleeves, played by Robert Rogers, as he taught the three little princesses what it meant to laugh, to dance, and to sing, against the wishes of the wicked Grand Duchess, portrayed by Nancy Poore. Gareth Griffiths, Barbara Lindquist, Joanna Carlson and Hager Watson headed the fine cast of this fairy tale, set in the middle ages. Elaborate staging and colorful costuming provided a bright touch to end the very successful 1954-55 theatrical season.

"ARSENIC AND OLD LACE" DELIGHTS FULL HOUSE

"Charge! Charge the blockhouse!" Those were the words that echoed through the auditorium Saturday evening, October 23, 1954, as members of the National Forensic League and the Thespians Troupe of J.H.S. presented "Arsenic and Old Lace".

The all-male cast was directed by Robert C. Wilson, debate coach, and committees and other arrangements were in charge of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, dramatics director.

The hilarious mystery-comedy is the story of two slightly insane aunts who bury twelve old gentlemen in the cellar. The aunts were portrayed by Marvin Anderl and David Holmlund. A demented nephew, Teddy "Roosevelt" Brewster, portrayed by William Bigelow, assisted the aunts in their actions by burying the gentlemen in the Panama Canal (the cellar). Jonathan Brewster, played by Timothy Ahlstrom, also affected with dementia, furthered complications by returning home. A third nephew, Mortimer Brewster (Robert A. Wilson) was about to marry a minister's daughter, Elaine Harper, portrayed by David Hanson, when he found out about the actions of his aunts and brothers. All ended happily, however, when Mortimer and his sweetheart were reunited and the aunts were sent to "Happydale", but only after having served another gentleman some of their poison wine.

Chairmen for the production of the play were Michael Clawson, assistant director; Richard Lindgren, business; Joan Linder and Robert Lindgren, advertising; Louis Lombardo, production; William Furman, lights and music; June Ingleson and Norma Hunt, make-up; Geraldine Adams and Nancy Hernan, costumes; and Frances Olson, house manager.

BROADWAY SHINES ON SECOND STREET

Once again this year through the efforts of Playhouse, the sophomore dramatic organization, "Broadway on Second Street" was presented at the Jamestown High School auditorium on March 12.

The program consisted of four one-act plays. One play was presented in competition by each class at J.H.S. The Sophomore Class gave one additional play at the opening of the program for added enjoyment. This program was the main production of Playhouse. Judges of the competing plays were Mrs. Harvey M. Osgood, Mrs. Vernon E. Johnson, and Mr. Melvin Berg. An inscribed cup which was donated by Playhouse was given to the winners.

Again this year the play which was judged the most outstanding by the judges was presented by the sophomore group, the Class of '57. The entry was Two Crooks and a Lady written by Eugene Pillot. This is a mystery involving an attempted theft of a valuable diamond necklace with Frank Hammerstrom as the crook and Toby Glover as his accomplice. Mary Wellman portrayed the rich old woman, Diane Pickering, her companion, David Lincoln, the police inspector, and John Peterson, Garrity. The student director was Geraldine Adams.

The play presented by the Juniors was called Blackout written by Essex Dane. This drama concerned the theft of secret formulas taken by the Nazis from Dr. Terry Conover, a scientist, portrayed by Russell Batt, with Kay Lindahl as Nurse Stillman, Karen Byrne as Mary Evelyn, and Hager Watson as Dr. Haber. The student director was Gareth Griffiths.

The senior play was entitled The Prettiest Girl in Town, written by Carter Blacksmythe, and directed by Irene Telly and Barbara Glad. It was a human interest comedy with a lesson to teach. Pat Hanson played Rhoda Addison, the prettiest girl in town; Pauline Carlson, Mrs. Addison, the mother; Anita Johnson, Betty Addison, the youngest daughter; Carol Nelson, Dorthea Addison, an older sister; Robert Wilson, Jack Addison, their brother; Gloria Ganurie, Sue Jumel, a friend of theirs; John Belknap, Fred Thompson, one of the gang; Joseph Welsh, William Fairley, a rather unpopular boy; and Daniel Johnson, Al Bigelow, the famous football player.

The sophomores also presented a light comedy called Love and Lather, written by Katherine Kester, and directed by Anne Johnson. The cast consisted of Katherine Karr, Edward Reasor, and Richard Olson. Playhouse presented numerous between-acts which were very entertaining.

"GREENSLEEVES" TOPS PRETENDERS' YEAR

Once again this year, Pretenders, the Junior-Senior dramatic group of J.H.S. under the direction of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, plunged into fairy-tale land to present their annual children's production sponsored by the Jamestown P.T.A. This year, "Greensleeves' Magic" was chosen and it furnished delightful entertainment for the hundreds of grade school pupils from the area who attended. The cast, the costume committee, and the production crews worked diligently right up until the curtain rose on the afternoon of March 19, and the successful, top-notch production of "Greensleeves" was presented.

Another of Pretenders' biggest projects this year was the one-act play "New Fountains" which was presented for Pretenders' assembly in November and also numerous times throughout the year for parents' groups in grade schools in the city. Because of the heavy performance schedule which continued through April, two casts were chosen for the production, both of which did an able job. The play involved a girl who was left crippled after an attack of polio. The casts included the following people:

First Cast		Second Cast
Donna Wallin	Joanne Morrison	Lucy Rogers
Nancy Hernan	Lenore Wilson	Barbara Lindquist
Joan Lindner	Mrs. Morrison	Geraldine Adams
Robert Lindgren	Peter Clark	Marlin Casker
Hager Watson	Stage Manager	Richard Olson

Pretenders also participated in the celebration of International Theatre Month on March 31, along with the French and Spanish clubs. Many members participated in the NFL-Thespians production "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Broadway on Second Street", the one-act play competition. Weekly programs were very well planned this year.

To complete their busy year Pretenders attended the Annual Play Festival at Fredonia State Teachers' College on April 29. All members who went had the privilege of seeing plays presented by many groups from different schools and enjoyed a delicious meal at the college in the evening. Late in May, Playhouse members were inducted as members of Pretenders for the coming year.

Officers for Pretenders this year were as follows:

First Term		Second Term
Irene Telly	President	Dolores Carlson
Alaric Bailey	Vice-President	Irene Telly
Frances Olson	Secretary	Rita Angilella
Dolores Carlson	Treasurer	Marvin Anderl
Barbara Glad	Keeper of Properties	David Holmlund
Phyllis Noyd	Keeper of Records	Nancy Hernan

PLAYHOUSE CONCLUDES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Playhouse began its active part in J.H.S. dramatic activities with its organization early in the fall. Over sixty sophomores signed up for membership, and to make the meetings more interesting, five groups were organized, each group being responsible for the entertainment for one meeting. Each group had a theatrical name such as "The Barrymores", "The First Nighters" and "The Celebrities".

On March 12 the big production of the year for Playhouse and the other dramatic organizations was "Broadway on Second Street". Playhouse presented "Two Crooks and a Lady". This play was one already presented for a program during the year by one of the groups. It was enjoyed by the members so much that they decided to use it for their entry in the competition plays. Playhouse was also in charge of a short opening play for "Broadway on Second Street" called "Love and Lather".

Robert Rogers, member of Playhouse, had the lead in the children's play "Greensleeves' Magic," a Pretender's production sponsored by the Jamestown P.T.A. This play, given at a matinee performance March 19, was enthusiastically received by the young theater-goers of Jamestown.

On any Friday if you had been looking for the female members of Playhouse, you could have found them in the girls' dressing room attending a make-up class, which was held for a six-week period, giving the girls much practice in the use of make-up for plays.

The annual Playhouse reception for the junior high dramatic groups was held in May to show prospective members how high school dramatics function.

All of Playhouse's success could not have been if it had not been for Miss Myrtle Paetznick under whose leadership the group ran.

The officers for the year were as follows:

First Term		Second Term
Mary Wellman	President	Mary Wellman
Frank Hammerstrom	Vice-president	Frank Hammerstrom
Katharine Karr	Secretary	Elaine Anderson
Richard Day	Treasurer	Richard Day
Stanley Lundine	Keeper of Properties	Richard Olson

THESPIANS ENJOY NATIONAL RECOGNITION

On April 2 over 400 high school delegates were present at a meeting of delegates of the National Thespian Society. The hosts at the meeting were the dramatics department of Thiel College, Greenville, Pa. At this conclave were representatives of the J.H.S. Troupe 364, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Myrtle Paetznick.

Two seniors, Pauline Carlson and Carole Nelson, were inducted into the society. Patricia Hanson was the delegate of the local chapter. In addition to enjoying three play scenes, the visitors took part in workshops and critic reports. Miss Paetznick served as a judge during the competition plays.

Membership in Thespians is dependent upon one's service in the field of high school dramatic arts. Acting, production, play-reading and selection, costuming, all are part of the business of "putting on a play". For time and effective effort, the reward of membership in a national honor society is made.

J.H.S. Thespians have been busy all year. With the National Forensic League, they presented the comedy "Arsenic and Old Lace" in October. At a drama festival held at Alfred University, the group gave a sensitive interpretation of "Jacob Comes Home".

Two initiative services were held, one in the fall, and another in the spring term.

The officers of the past year were the following:

VARIETY WAS THE RULE FOR HYPATIANS

Yes, variety is the rule for Hypatians, the girls' public speaking organization of Jamestown High School. This is true both in the weekly programs and in the social events which have been held.

"Extemp," "rebuttal" and "cross-examine" were terms the sophomore members found unfamiliar at first but soon were using with the ease of the older members.

Programs have included debates, extemporaneous talks, panel discussions, poetry reading contests. These helped to accustom the members to speaking before groups.

Hypatians, however, is not all work. Each holiday a tea was held in the teachers' cafeteria. In November a party with Lyceum was held. Everyone who went will remember the fun which was had by all. In February a traveling supper was given. Members traveled to several different homes in order to get their entire meal.

Speakers have included the following: Miss F. Elizabeth Jacques, who showed and explained slides of her recent trip to the Southwest; Miss Rosella M. Agostine, who showed slides of her trip to Italy; Mr. Richard H. Ramsauer, who spoke on the importance of art in our lives, and a member of the Wacs, who told about the life of a Wac.

Bake sales and a dance after one of the local basketball games increased the treasury. At Christmas time, rather than exchange gifts, Hypatians sent a basket to a needy family. Much hard work went into the production of "Arsenic and Old Lace", sponsored by the debating and dramatic organizations of J.H.S. This was under the capable direction of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, dramatics coach, and Mr. Robert C. Wilson, faculty advisor of Hypatians.

All in all, Hypatians enjoyed a most successful year climaxed by the senior banquet in June.

The officers during the year were as follows:

First Term		Second Term
Nancy Hernan	President	Irene Telly
Norman Hunt	Vice-president	Cynthia Chiappetta
Barbara Glad	Secretary	Ann Johnson
Sonya Bore	Treasurer	Mary Johnson

LYCEUM CONTINUES WORTH-WHILE ACTIVITY

This year, Lyceum, boys' debating organization, completed its fifty-fith year of activity at J.H.S. In 1900, the first meetings were held under the guidance of the late Milton J. Fletcher, former principal and superintendent of schools. From these beginnings, the Lyceum has steadily grown in prestige and accomplishment.

Many well-known men did their first public speaking as Lyceum members. Mr. Marion Fisher, a prominent lawyer, was its first president. The late Honorable Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court was an active member.

In 1920 a banquet was held which was the precedent for the annual affair, a high point in the year's program. The first Fletcher award was presented in 1931. This coveted recognition is given to two members who are determined, by a scoring system, to be the most active in the club.

This past year, under the enthusiastic guidance of Mr. Robert C. Wilson, the group has continued the splendid work. Along with the hard work of preparing and giving debates, the members have found time for fun. A basketball game with Hi-Y left the "Y" boys the hapless victims of a 124-60 score.

Other good times will close a happy and profitable year: the banquet, the annual picnic, and a closing-of-the-year party with Hypatians.

Officers of the year have been the following:

First term		Second term
Brian Weinstein	President	Brian Weinstein
Sebastian Ciancio	Vice-president	Russell Batt
David Hanson	Secretary	Sebastian Ciancio

"FREE TRADE" KEEPS VARSITY DEBATERS BUSY

"Free trade is the only way to give foreign countries and the United States better economic conditions."

"On the contrary, if we adopt a policy of free trade, it will be a detriment to the economic conditions of the United States and foreign countries."

This topic of free trade kept the J.H.S. debate squad on its toes since it required a great deal of studying and research.

Early last fall Jamestown participated in the Oswego Tournament and in the Hamilton Tournament. Russell Batt was named best speaker of the Oswego Tournament. At the Student Congress in Marlsboro, N. Y., Russell Batt again was selected the best speaker. Timothy Ahlstrom was second best speaker and Lloyd Malmstrom received honorable mention. Jamestown won the sectional tournament in Rochester qualifying them for the State Debate Tournament at Albany. Russell Batt, William Bigelow and Diane Pickering were best speakers in the A, B, and C divisions respectively. The State Forensic League Tournament at Syracuse was one of the biggest events of the year for there J.H.S. debaters took part in the following events: debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, oratorical declamation, dramatic declamation and humorous declamation.

Mr. Robert C. Wilson, debate coach, led debaters to a successful year in panel discussions and inter-school debates with Meadville, Bradford, Aquinas, Canisius and Erie Academy. He also acted as coach for the two contests "I Speak for Democracy" and the American Legion Oratorical contest. Russell Batt, after capturing first place in the county, and second in the district, went on to win second place in the zone in the latter contest. Debaters sponsored a tournament at Jamestown, and traveled to tournaments at Allegheny College and Grove City.

Snowstorms, car sickness and losses played a part in this year's activities, but J.H.S. debaters proved their training in public speaking to be of great value to them.

Officers for the year were the following:

TEAMS TO CLASH IN HALL DEBATE

The traditional Charles E. Hall debate promises again to give rise to one of the most intense rivalries between the Senior and Junior Classes. This debating highlight is held in memory of Charles E. Hall, an outstanding high school debater who died in his senior year at J.H.S. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Hall, first sponsored the Charles E. Hall Debate thirty-three years ago. The debaters are chosen from their respective classes by a group of high school faculty members on basis of five-minute try-out speeches.

Will '55 win or will '56 win? This result will be decided by Sebastian Ciancio, Robert A. Wilson and Brian Weinstein who are representing the class of '55 and their opponents, Timothy Ahlstrom, Russell Batt and William Bigelow of the class of '56. This friendly competitive event will take place early in June.

BUSY A'CAPPELLA CHOIR SHAR

A whirl of events was in store for the A'Cappella Choir in September as it began another year of great accomplishment. If you have ever wandered down the basement corridor during the fifth period, you have heard the mellow voices of the spirited choir members in rehearsal.

Under the able direction of Miss Ebba H. Goranson, the choir made its first appearance at Christmas time when they spread Christmas cheer to young and old alike at service clubs and in the hospitals. Three vesper services at the Presbyterian Church added to the eleven or more engagements A'Cappella had. With the well known "Kyrie Kristie" as their guide, the A'Cappella sang its way through another impressive and extremely moving Christmas season.

Spring found A'Cappella spiritedly preparing for two annual concerts, one in April and the second in May. Such numbers as "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" and "Alleluia" served as splendid concert material. Also in May, the choir appeared at the music festivals.

The choir favored the junior high schools with an assembly program in each of the schools. This is indeed a rewarding way to arouse music interests and appreciation. On Memorial Day, the well-known red and white robes were again donned for a reverent performance in Lake View Cemetery.

USIC WITH ENTIRE COMMUNITY

The final performance of the year for the A'Cappella Choir will be at the Baccalaureate exercises on Sunday, June 26.

Ethna Sulmonetti and Bruce Bullock went to Rochester in December to take part in the choir at the annual All-State Music Festival held there.

As "all work and no play makes John a dull boy" so it is with the choir. Members turned to the lighter side when on March 8, they chartered a bus and went to the Ice Follies in Buffalo.

Hot dogs and the ever welcome cup of hot coffee at football games were made possible through the efforts of choir members as salesmen. The real school spirit was brought out with the sale of red and green banners.

A great deal of credit for the success of this year's choir goes to the ambitious and wonderful group of officers they chose. The officers were as follows:

President . . . . . Daniel Johnson
Vice-president . . . . . Michael Clawson
Secretary . . . . . June Ingleson
Treasurer . . . . . Robert Lindgren

ORCHESTRA MEMBERS WORK LONG HOURS

About 2:15 every Tuesday and Thursday, strange sounds begin to come from the music room. To the uninitiated, there is no plan behind such directions as "Give me an 'A'" spoken from the violin section, nor the counter-command of "No, low 'E'" from the big bass players. There is quiet for a few minutes, then comes the request for "'A' again please" from the woodwind section.

In time, of course, the entire orchestra is satisfied that everyone is in tune, and Miss Ebba H. Goranson, the director, is ready to raise her baton. Once the rehearsal has started, the musicians settle down to the serious consideration of the afternoon's work. They practice for long hours after most of the other students have gone home.

The orchestra string and woodwind players practiced diligently throughout the first term, and were joined later by the bass and percussion sections in preparation for the concert season.

Several of the players continued their musical studies, in classes and privately, and were outstanding soloists in their own right. Sam LaValle and Darwin Gustavson, for example, were invited to participate in All-State Orchestra held in Rochester in December.

There has been remarkable accomplishment on the work of some of the orchestra members who took up their instruments as late as their sophomore year.

The spring of the year is the busy time for the orchestra. Members go to the annual spring contests and present two concerts. This past year was no exception. In addition, the orchestra went to a contest festival and performed for various groups in the community.

HARD WORK OF BAND IS REWARDED

The 1954-55 band season opened with a fanfare as the band created intricate and fascinating formations on the football field. New white gloves flashed as the group was led through its paces by drum major Richard Lindgren, dressed in a white fitted uniform. The outstanding show of the marching season, entitled "Salute to Sousa", was presented in commemoration of the one hundredth birthday of John Phillip Sousa. The band appeared at all home games and made out-of-town trips to Olean and Warren.

One weekend during the football season, members of the band could be seen on the streets in the downtown area selling little white tags. This was part of a plan to raise money for new raincoats for the band, and new majorette uniforms. The enthusiasm of the band members and their willingness to work was an example of the fine spirit which has been built up within this group.

With the close of the marching season, the band settled down to prepare for the annual concerts. A group of more advanced players was chosen to be in the select band as well as in the regular band. Much hard work followed. This was rewarded by an outstanding concert presented in February, the presentation of several grade school and junior high assemblies, and a concert in May presented with the A'Cappella Choir and Orchestra. In addition, the band sponsored an assembly in March featuring the Hobart High School Band. The highlight of the concert season was an overnight trip to Syracuse where the band participated in the NYSSMA Music Festival.

The students who had the privilege of being in band this year have enjoyed a very successful season. This would not have been possible, had it not been for the unselfish devotion of time and effort given to the band by the director, Mr. Charles Jacobson. As a most outstanding director, Mr. Jacobson has given the band members an experience they will not soon forget.

JUNIORS DOMINATE BASEBALL TEAM

The 1954 baseball team was characterized by the excellent leadership of Coach Allan F. Ayers, the extremely fine pitching of Bob Winterburn and Bruce Bullock, and the aggressive and hard-working spirit of the juniors. Eleven juniors won their letters as the squad combined seven wins with four losses. The won and lost record does not speak well enough of the accomplishments of this team. It started out slightly inexperienced, but ended up as a fine, well coordinated baseball team.

Bob Winterburn started the season off right by throwing a two-hitter as Jamestown swamped Falconer, 16-2. Not to be outdone, Bruce Bullock chucked a one-hit shutout at Fredonia in the very next game.

Southwestern proved to be too strong a foe for Jamestown in their first meeting, but the Red Raiders reversed the 7-2 setback in their second encounter, as Daniel Johnson took the hill to pitch a two-hitter. The squad twice beat a rough and tough Salamanca outfit, once with sophomore Coach Colburn substituting for the ailing Coach Ayers. Despite a 5-4 second encounter loss to Falconer, Jamestown still won the Lake Shore League crown.

The Raiders suffered a 6-5 defeat at the hands of the Olean Huskies despite the heavy hitting of Dave Lindahl and Jack Fulford, the big guns in the hitting department. The second meeting of the two clubs was for the Bi-County championship. Jamestown took this one with Bob Winterburn pitching a shutout and Dan Johnson getting four hits in four trips to the plate.

The squad then journeyed to Hamburg to meet Niagara Falls for the Section Six title. By the time of this game, the boys had gained much experience and confidence. A fighting outfit, one that knew that this would be the last game they would play as a team, took the field to battle their foe. The boys failed to win the game, but they lost no pride. It was an older and more experienced nine that defeated our Raiders 4-1 in a bitterly fought game. Many of these same boys will be back in 1955 to play their best for the team and for their school.

J. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM PACKS POWER

The J.H.S. football team in the fall of 1954 blasted its way through a rough but colorful season. It was Coach Walter Colburn's fifth year at the helm, and his team came through with five wins, two losses and one tie. Even though the team was light, the coach was able to groom the boys into an aggressive squad that was a crowd-pleaser.

The Raiders began their season against the Lackawanna Steelers. Through their alert play and cool ball handling, they were able to vanquish the heavier team, 18-7. This game was the beginning of a season of aerial attacks, spear-headed by Dick Seely and Bill Bourque. On the receiving end were the sure fingers of Joe Irby and Brian Moynihan.

In the following game, Jamestown suffered its first defeat. There was fine defensive play, especially on the part of Ted Carlson and Roger Jackson, but the final score was Erie Cathedral Prep 13, Jamestown, 0. The Raiders came back to take the next two, beating Lockport 27-7 and Dunkirk 13-7. The fine running of Jim DeSantis figured prominently in these victories.

Perhaps the toughest game of the season was with the Niagara Falls Green Hornets, with the Jamestown team on the losing end of the 13-6 score. The strong defensive play of Russ Giunta, Bill Prince, and Russ Certo, and the dogged running of Sam Casamento were just not enough to pull the game out of the fire.

Tonawanda presented no serious problem and were defeated 13-6. The Huskies also bowed by a score of 27-6. Jim Gordon turned in a brilliant game, climaxed by an 87-yard run for a touchdown on an intercepted pass by Dick Seely.

To finish the season, the Raiders invaded the home stand of their ancient rivals, the Warren Dragons. Throughout most of the game, the Jamestown team held the upper hand. The game, however, turned out to be a thriller, 6-6. Outstanding games were played by DeSantis, Certo, Giunta, and Jim Steele.

The honorary captains for the season, as selected by their team mates, were Russ Giunta and Sam Casamento. Giunta was also honored by being put on the All-State first string squad.

Coaches who were of great assistance to Mr. Colburn were Coach Allan F. Ayers on the line, and Coach Harold Rubens, who trained the sophomores.

RAIDERS PLAY EXCITING SCHEDULE

The Red Raiders of Jamestown were again led through the season for a series of victories winning 12 games and dropping only 6 in regular season play. Under the coaching of Rolland H. Taft, the Raiders came into a three-way tie for the Lake Shore League, but were defeated by Olean in the Bi-County playoffs, 65-59.

This year's team had nine seniors, the most of any team in recent years. Bob Winterburn and Fred Lindstrom were good pivot men, and Bob Ecklund excelled in drive-in shots. Russell Giunta was a strong defensive man, and George Parsons made up for his lack of height with his speed and good set shooting. Bob Ecklund and Bob Winterburn were high scorers for the year.

J.H.S. started off with a strong winning streak, but the wins and losses were more evenly balanced near the end of the season. The best game of the season was the first game against Falconer. Our most formidable opponent proved to be Olean, who was able to beat us twice. All the games were close and hard-fought and therefore, crowd-pleasers.

The sophomore team turned in a good performance, too, with eleven wins and six losses. The Baby Raiders should provide good material for next year, for they have a fine competitive spirit and have been ably coached by Allan F. Ayers. The scores are as follows:

CROSS COUNTRY

The hill and valley runners under the capable coaching of Rolland H. Taft resumed their second season after a comeback. Running up and down the narrow dusty paths, the boys perhaps didn't win fame as a team, but did all right individually. Boys earning enough points to earn a letter were Ted Ecklund and Dan Lindberg. Ted Ecklund went on to place eleventh out of 176 runners in top competition in the sectional, held at Amherst.

TRACK

The J.H.S. thinclads, benefited by the experience of Coach Taft and his assistant, Coach Harold Rubens, again upheld the high honors of the Red Raiders. The '54 dustraisers didn't have much depth, but the boys had natural ability in their own specified fields, which was developed as the season went along. The team had an exceptional amount of team spirit which proved to be the main factor in their success.

The Raiders' quality led them to a second place in the county meet at Dunkirk, within a few points of Fredonia. The county meet was high-lighted by Big Jim McCusker's record-breaking discus throw, a record which he had previously broken in a high school meet to establish a new Jamestown High record. The Raiders later went to the sectional play-offs and placed fourth out of fifteen competing teams. Other boys starring during the '54 season were John Nystrom, the J.H.S. miler; the Irby combination of Rog and Joe, excelling in high jumping and sprinting respectively; Bob Erickson, the half-miler, and Dick Nelson, pole-vaulter.

The Raider thinclads tabulated up their schedule as follows:

May 4—Warren 71, Jamestown 33.
May 11—Corry 65, Jamestown 50, Ripley 13.
May 14—Warren 64, Jamestown 40.
May 18—Olean 55, Jamestown 49.
May 25—Jamestown 58, Dunkirk 46.
May 28—County: Jamestown—Second.
June 5—Sectional: Jamestown—Fourth.

"J" CLUB PLANS FOR GREATER SCHOOL SERVICE

The "J" Club of Jamestown High School aims to promote interest in athletics and to improve school spirit. To fulfill their aims more diligently, the "J" Club conducted a survey this year to find out what other high school letter clubs were doing to promote interest in athletics and to improve school spirit. They sent letters of inquiry to the larger high schools of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and New York. The replies to the questionnaires will be used as a basis for future programs.

In line with its many services to J.H.S., the "J" Club sold football programs at all of the home games. With the co-sponsorship of Key Club, they arranged and supervised the Faculty-Student championship basketball game. The faculty won another game this year, but only by one point and after they were forced into two overtime periods.

With the co-sponsorship of the Athletic Council, the "J" Club arranged the Basketball Banquet on March 29 at the Ritz Restaurant. At this time the members of the basketball team were honored with a dinner and a talk by Mr. Frank Hyde, sports editor of the Jamestown Post-Journal.

The members of "J" Club are students of J.H.S. who have earned a varsity letter. The letters are given in football, baseball, basketball, golf, cross-country, track, swimming, to the managers of these sports and to the cheer-leaders.

In the spring the "J" Club helped the Junior High Schools with their track meet which was held at the Jamestown High School. The advisors of the "J" Club are Coach Rolland H. Taft and Miss Gretchen Sander, girls' physical education instructor. Officers for this year were as follows:

President ..... Robert Ecklund
Vice-president ..... Daniel Johnson
Secretary ..... Onalee Malta
Treasurer ..... Russell Giunta

CHEERLEADERS PROVIDE "GO, GO, GO!" SPIRIT

In the early part of September, as soon as school really began, the many voices of hopeful cheerleaders rang out from the gym. Practicing every night, they soon found out that cheerleading was not all "screaming," but a few sore muscles also. Finally the "day of decision" arrived. Chosen for the varsity squad were Onalee Malta, Diane Ferrau, Patricia Yankoski, Sandra Swanson, and Joyce Berg. A Junior Varsity was also chosen, including Antoinette Arnone, Shiela Spoto, Elaine Anderson, Beverly Rossman, Maxine Ettleson and Maxine Avery.

Thursday was chosen to be the regular practice day. Miss Gretchen Sander, physical education teacher, taking time out from her other many activities, acted as coach. Both squads received green skirts from the school as part of their uniform. The Varsity cheerleaders bought their own white, turtle-neck sweaters. White gym shoes completed the attractive uniforms.

The cheerleaders were right behind the team every minute of any game, boosting their morale, even when they suffered defeat. Through all types of weather they were "Johnny on the spot." On the basketball court, they jumped at every opportunity to urge the team on to victory. Many times, they led the entire school in a cheering session, either in pep assemblies or at our annual pep rally, over town. Through all our rugged football games, despite the weather, these girls were behind our boys every step of the way. The J.V. cheerleaders sold football schedules at all the varsity home football games.

To show their gratitude, the team invited the cheerleaders to both the football and the basketball banquets, which seems to be a well-earned honor.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM ADDS SPARK TO J. H. S.

SWIMMING

For the first time in J.H.S. sports history, a swimming team has represented our school. Through the efforts of C. Richard Bower, assistant physical director at the Y.M.C.A., preliminary steps were taken early in the school year to organize the squad.

The Athletic Association of J.H.S. helped the prospective members to pay for the necessary "Y" membership and undertook to provide transportation and meals when the team was away from home. The biggest single impetus, however, was the offer of "Dick" Bower to coach the team without remuneration.

The actual season began with try-outs in early November. After the team was chosen, most of the boys practiced four days a week.

From these beginnings, the team went on to participate in three official high school meets, winning two and losing one. In the Sectionals at North Tonawanda, J.H.S. placed fourth, and Bill Radack has consistently been the individual star. In the second meet of the year against Erie Tech, he broke the pool record at 1:03.1. In our home pool, Bill, all in one exhibition meet, tied the pool record in 40-yard free style, the 120-yard individual medley, and 100-yard back stroke.

The most outstanding feat, however, was Bill's shattering of the 18-year-old pool record at North Tonawanda in a sectional meet. This newly-established record was also a new sectional record.

On March 26, Radack was timed in 100-yard backstroke trials at 1:02.8. This time has been submitted by Dick Bower to make Bill eligible for All-American honors.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

The intramural program got underway at J.H.S., this year, with homeroom basketball competition. The rivalry was at a peak, as teams representing every boys' homeroom were included in the schedule. An elimination tourney was held under the supervision of Mr. Colburn. When the activity was over, homeroom 222 prevailed as senior champs; room 163, junior champs; and room 214 sophomore champs. After topping the junior champs, room 222 was declared school champion.

On March 18, the students and faculty clashed in the annual student-faculty game. Again the faculty were the victors, but not until they had played a double overtime.

RIFLE CLUB

The Rifle Club which met Monday evenings on the school rifle range enjoyed a full program this year. The activity was sponsored by Harold Rubens.

BOYS' BOWLING

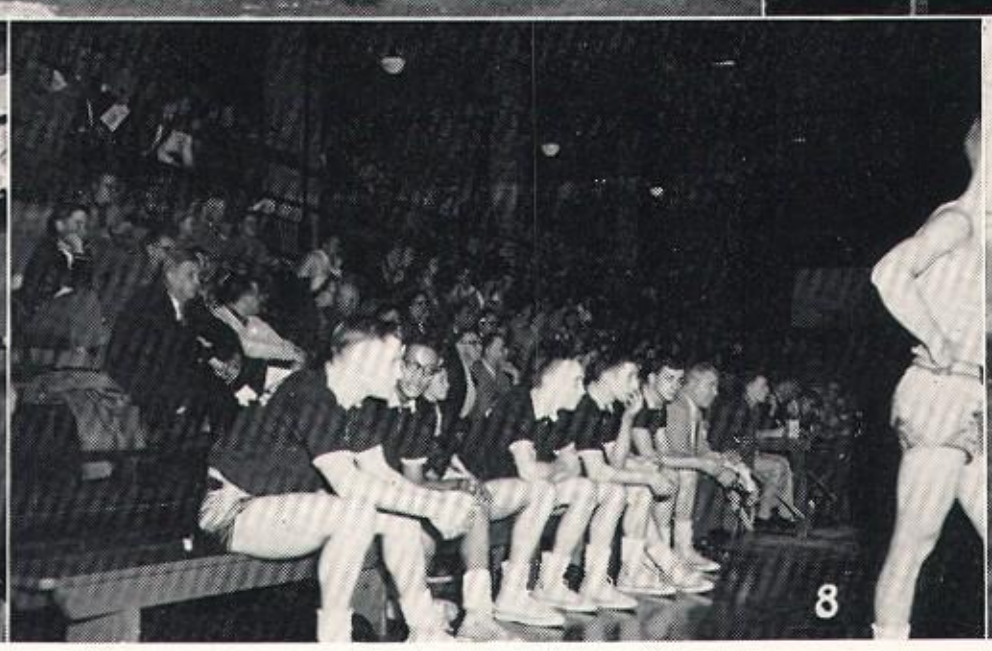
Bowling was again enjoyed by a number of boys at J.H.S. Teams were chosen up by the members who met each week during the season at the Pine Street Alleys. The sport was under the guidance of Mr. Harold Rubens.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The girls at J.H.S. had quite a full sports program during the year.

The first playday was held at Southwestern on November 3. The girls were divided into ten groups. They then alternated from one piece of apparatus to another. Later each group took a tour of the new building.

The following tournaments were held during the year: cageball at Jamestown in November, bowling at Falconer in February, basketball at Jamestown in February, badminton at Jamestown in March and April, volleyball at Frewsburg in April and softball at Jamestown in June. The softball tournament was followed by a picnic.



1. Game with Erie; 2. Fulford scraps for the ball; 3. Dr. James Goodell and Jim DeSantis; 4. Bill Radack; 5. Prince, Joel Carlson, Joe Irby (on ground); 6. What's my score? 7. Bradley Long and James Muir on rifle range; 8. The bench; 9. Spring training.
